“LIBERTY CHINA AND QUEEN’S WARE”

IN all collections of old china there are treasured pieces made to perpetuate important historical events.

When our country entered the Great War I decided to have this chapter in our history commemorated by a patriotic china, to be made by a great potter and that I would devote all profits to the war sufferers.

In fact, I had thought over the plan before we entered the war, and was ready when the President sent his message to Congress. My hope was that Josiah Wedgwood & Sons of Etruria, England, would make it, and that Wm. H. Plummer & Co. of New York would help with the business of importing and delivering it.

I went to Mr. and Mrs. Plummer unfolding my plan. They were most sympathetic. I explained the china’s purpose, that it was a private order, was never to be advertised, the samples were to be shown only in my drawing room, and when peace was declared the orders would cease. The war china would stop with the war. Mr. and Mrs. Plummer promised their aid, agreeing that, as there was no time to lose, we must communicate with Josiah Wedgwood & Sons at once. It was important to act quickly and quietly. Some one might think of having a china made for commercial purposes, and the plan of helping the war relief funds would be frustrated. After the details of price, etc., had been arranged Mr. Plummer said he would give his commission to war relief work. That was his spirit of co-operation.

It now remained to get the design drawn. The little design stood clearly in my mind. Our shield in the midst of the Allied flags, with the flags of England and France at the top, the flag of Belgium between them, a wreath of laurel to surround the shield. This to be kept small and used on each piece as a coat of arms, no other decoration but a narrow band of gold on the edges. That afternoon several friends met in our library. Dr. Ward A. Holden arranged the flags, balancing the colors, Mrs. H. Snowden

AND QUEEN'S WARE

Marshall skillfully sketched the design, and, while I was insisting that the top of the shield be kept straight, Mr. Taylor came in and christened it "Liberty China."

Back I went downtown with the sketch, a professional draughtsman straightened it, adapting it for china decoration, and the next steamer from New York carried the drawing with letters to Wedgwood. Of course we knew the tremendous difficulties to be met in filling the orders, but we also felt sure that if it were possible, Wedgwood would make the effort.

The answer came from England, Wedgwood would gladly make the china. They approved heartily of the purpose and of the design. With their name on each piece, success was assured. Then the shapes were selected, and the first order sent for 500 China cups and saucers.

100 " 7-inch plates.

15 " tea-pots, sugar bowls, and cream jugs.

500 Queen's ware cups and saucers.

250 " " 7-inch plates.

Later I received a water-color sketch of a cup, saucer, and plate, to show how the design was placed. This stood in the library, and orders came so rapidly that when the first "Liberty China" arrived in September, 1917, almost the entire consignment had been sold.

Owing to a misunderstanding, these first pieces had the name of Wm. H. Plummer & Co. stamped in red beneath Wedgwood's name. This was never repeated.

A grateful and appreciative letter was sent to Major Wedgwood and a second order for china. Tea-sets of Queen's ware, and little hot-water jugs in both china and "ware" were added to the lists. They could send but a limited amount each month. Orders came in rapidly and china but slowly, so it was soon sold far ahead of delivery. Making its own friends from tea-table to tea-table, "Liberty China" travelled far, and great care was taken to avoid the possibility of selling to any one who might wish to put it in a shop. At first I sold to several friends some of the china at wholesale price, to be sold by them for their Red Cross Chapters. This complicated my bookkeeping and was soon stopped. All letters came to me, I had all names and orders in my order books, and answered all inquiries personally. There was no expense, and I was in close touch with every detail. It was always of keen interest to see how far and how fast the china travelled, and from which state or country would come the next inquiry.

Miss Crossen had charge of the china at Wm. H. Plummer & Co. My orders were sent to her, and she reported invoices, breakage, etc., to me. Her aid was truly a labor of patriotism. Each month her report was sent to me, and each month her books and mine balanced to the piece in stock, and the penny of my check. Gradually orders were sent for different sized plates, but the 7-inch plate remained the popular size. Six breakfast tray sets were ordered, of Queen's ware, and 6 dozen china dinner plates. Armistice Day came before these could be re-ordered.

Surprisingly little of the china was lost in transit. On the ocean every month of the war the submarines never caught a piece. Two dozen china cups and saucers were lost between New York and Baltimore in September, 1917, and a tea-set of Queen's ware with cups and saucers and plates on the way to Chestnut Hill, Pa. A complete afternoon tea-set sent as a gift to the Prince of Wales when he was in New York, was in some way mislaid, and I heard long afterwards had never been received. The complete orders were

Two china bowls were ordered and delivered with 2 tea-sets in England. The grand total was 9,251 pieces. When the last piece was sold, the china had given $14,203.14 to those who had suffered for the flags in its emblem.

I wrote to Major Wedgwood when the orders were almost completed, thanking him and expressing my warm appreciation of their co-operation, and said it would soon be time to destroy the "coppers." Major Wedgwood replied, "We are making every effort to complete the order, and, as soon as this is done, you may rest assured that the 'coppers' shall be destroyed, so that the goods can never be supplied to any one else. I note with pleasure that when everything is completed you will write a small book for private circulation, bearing upon the whole question. We shall hope to obtain one of these copies from you, when it will be stored in the archives of our Museum as one of the few pleasant memories of the sad and terrible war." I answered: "Please save me from myself. Think of the temptation to order another tea-pot should I break my own precious piece, so let me hear that the china will never be made again even at my request."

I will close this little report with Major Wedgwood's last letter:

LIBERTY CHINA

MY DEAR MRS. TAYLOR:

Herewith as requested, I send you our guarantee that no more "Liberty China" shall be made "even at your request." I have just examined the copper plate of the engraving and had it destroyed.

With all good wishes, believe me

FRANK H. WEDGWOOD.

The following pages show where the money has been given, and I add a list of china owners' names, grouped under states or countries. This will help future owners to trace their inheritance of old historic china, and will remind them of the trying days when we so proudly added our flag to the flags of the Allies.

--------------------------------	--------------

Mr. Plummer gave many of his donations in small sums, but he gave $500.00 to St. Dunstan's Home for the Blinded Soldiers. He gave $100.00 to The Royal Staffordshire Infirmary, and was a generous contributor to The Prince of Wales Fund, to the American Red Cross, the A. B. F. B. Blind Fund, the Salvation Army, and to the Knights of Columbus.

When the question of possible taxes is settled I hope to give the money now in The Fifth Ave. Bank to some hospital or home where war sufferers are cared for.

LIBERTY CHINA

OWNERS OF THE LIBERTY CHINA AND QUEEN'S WARE

I have carefully gone over order books, all bills, all memoranda, to make this list correct. At the outset, I did not intend writing a report, but as interest in the china grew, was frequently asked to do so. I then decided to add the owner's names. My order books and bills were available, but in the early days several came in to buy a single piece, paying and taking it with them. These names have been difficult to trace or remember. I trust I have been successful, and that no name has been omitted. If the china has changed owners, it must be traced through the name of the original buyer. When bought by two members of a family, or sent to them as a gift, it has been listed under "Mr. and Mrs." Otherwise the name of the buyer only is given.
